CATAMOUNT VOL. 56

PREFACE
The Making of a Champion

Sometimes it seems many roads lead to where we want to be. Volume 56 of the Catamount is greatfully dedicated once again to a man who has shown all of us, by example, how to become a champion in our own lives — Coach Bob Waters.

Born in Sylvania, Georgia, he came of age by earning eleven athletic letters at Screven County High School. Presbyterian College, in Clinton, South Carolina recruited him for the collegiate gridiron where he led his team to the 1960 Tangerine Bowl. Then it was on to the San Francisco 49ers professional football team.

From 1960 to 1963, Bob Waters frequently started at quarterback and helped with several spectacular wins over Baltimore, Detroit, and Los Angeles. In 1964 a series of injuries began that forced him to retire the next year.

In 1966 he returned to Presbyterian College as an assistant coach. After two seasons there, he became the receiver coach at Stanford University.

Western Carolina University named him as head football coach in 1969. Just two years later, in 1971, he was appointed athletic director. Coach Waters, along with his wife, Sherine, and three children have become an integral part of the Catamount community. As Head Coach at WCU, he has compiled a winning record. He has won many honors such as the AFCA District College Division Coach of the Year, AFCA District Division II Coach of the Year, and the Southern Conference Coach of the Year. Recently, he was inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame, and the Citrus bowl Hall of fame.

He also has motivated WCU's athletic program to high aspirations and high standards. He has taken the program from the NAIA to the Southern Conference. He has been directly involved in the building of the E.J. Whitmire Stadium, Jordan Phillips Fieldhouse, and the Liston B. Ramsey Center.

In 1985 news came to the community that Coach Bob Waters was suffering from ALS, which is commonly referred to as Lou Gehrig's disease. The incurable disease attacks the nervous system and a person with the disease eventually looses muscular control. Instead of becoming sedentary, Waters chose to fight and to do what he loves most — coach football. He resigned as athletic director and became ever more active in the game itself.

He has also become actively involved in fund raising efforts for ALS researeh, and works with the Muscular Distrophy Association to help others who are strieken. His story has been related by the national television networks and major newspapers and magazines.

Here are some of the feelings that Western Carolina students and faculty voiee about Coach Waters:
". . . he demonstrates true leadership . . . he has pulled the school together as one big family . . . he always smiles and speaks, never is rude or impolite . . . still does his job in spite of disabilities . . . ean be around his football players without having hard feelings beeause he used to be like that but now isn't . . . all around great guy . . . a blessing to have him at our school . . . truly a champion and makes WCU a champion . . ."

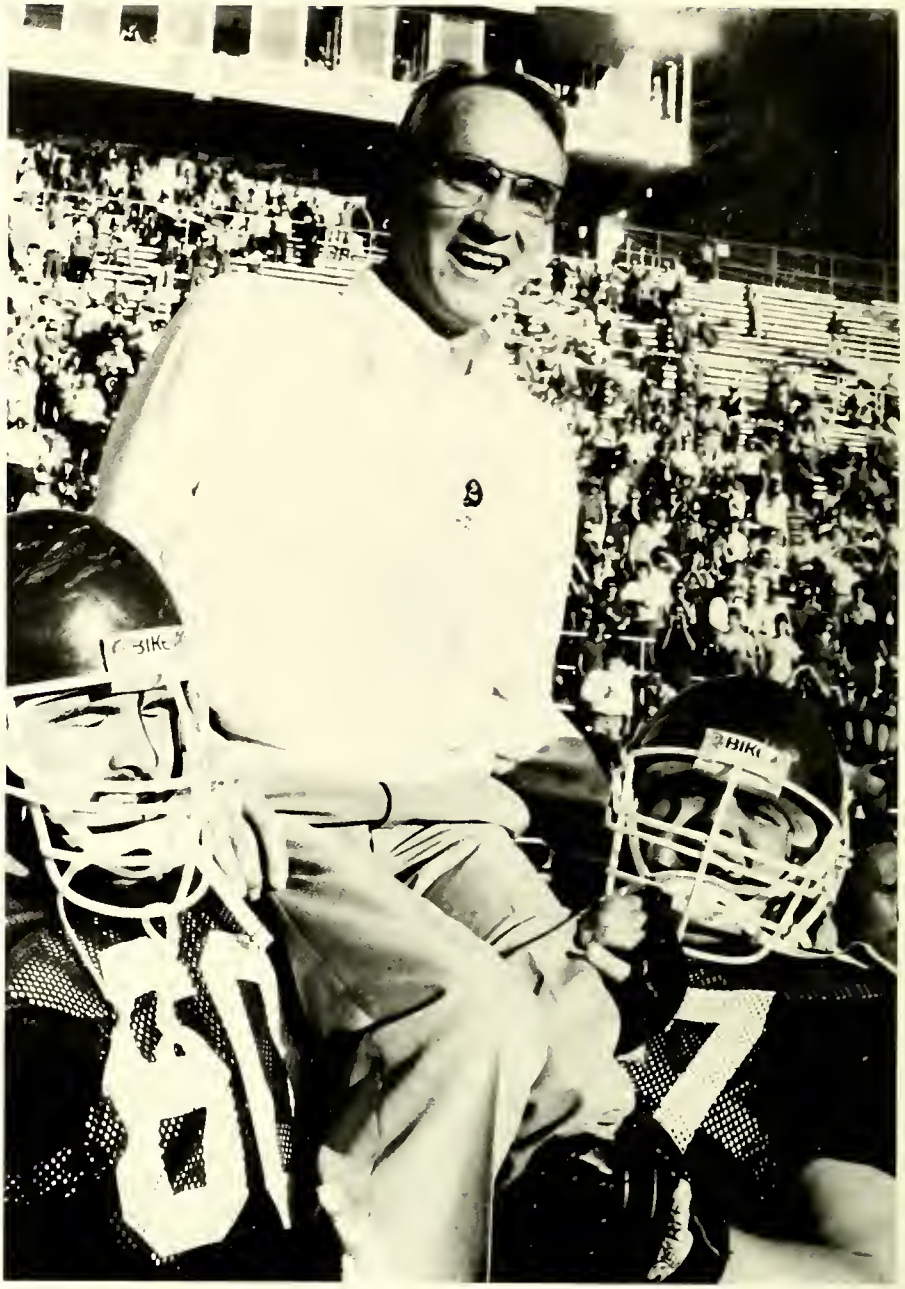

Never, ever giving up, resolve in the face of adversity, a determination throughout life to sueceed, grow and develop, an acceptanee of reality, humor, courage, faith and honesty . . . these qualities form an attitude about life that make Bob Waters a champion. For us, a lesson and an inspiration. That's what being a true champion is all about.

MOUNTAIN HERITAGE DAY IS EXPERIENCE TO REMEMBER

The 13th annual Mountain Heritage Day was a delight to all the senses. For music lovers, there were bands, old-time fiddlers, singers, banjo pickers and balladeers. For dancers, there were clogging routines that made them want to jump in and "hoe down", too.

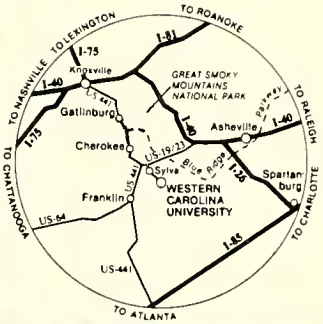

For those who like to look and watch, the faces in the crowd were a sight to see. For those who like to touch, feel and shop, the tables loaded with hand made leather goods, jewelry, home textiles, glassware and other crafts proved irrestible. For those who like to taste, a wide array of home-made goodies were there for the asking. A couple of dollars could buy cakes, candied apples, or a complete meal. For those who like to experience it all, this day was truly memorable.

Western Carolina University

WHO ARE WE?

Western Carolina University, founded in 1889, is one of the 16 campuses of the University of North Carolina. The mission of the institution has been clear from its earliest days — to serve the mountain people of Western North Carolina. The fullest realization of that mission has, in later years, seen Western Carolina become a multi-purpose university, extending its activities and the advantages of higher education not only to the mountain region, but throughout the State and beyond.

The 400-acre campus is located in Cullowhee, North Carolina, in a picturesque valley of the Tuckaseigee River. The University lies close by the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in which some of the highest mountains in Eastern America are found.

The location is 52 miles west of Asheville, North Carolina, and seven miles from Sylva, North Carolina, the county seat of Jackson County.

Western Carolina has six schools: Arts and Sciences, Business, Technology and Applied Science, Nursing and Health Sciences, Education and Psychology, and The Graduate School.

The University and the Department of the Army conduct a full scale Army ROTC program at Cullowhee.

Nearing the centennial of its founding, Western Carolina University today, under the leadership of Dr. Myron L. Coulter and a highly-qualified administrative staff and faculty, is giving new dimensions and scope to the century-old concept of service.

The University is burgeoning with degree options for students, who now number around 6,700. The undergraduate schools offer more than 90 bachelor degree programs. The Graduate School offers more than 70 majors leading to Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Business Administration, Master of Industrial Technology, Master of Public Affairs, Master of Arts in Education, and Education Specialist degrees.

The University is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It also holds accreditation of special areas of instruction from numerous professional accrediting organizations.

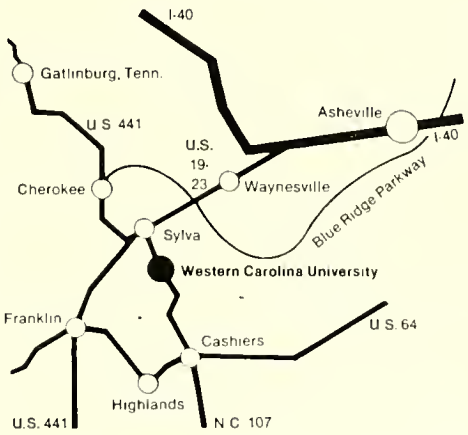

The student body includes persons from throughout the nation and from numerous other countries.

The international work of the University includes opportunities for students in teacher education to complete student teaching semesters in Latin American countries at multi-lingual and multi-national schools.

Western Carolina is unique in the UNC system in that it offers instructional programs abroad, taught by regular faculty members, for foreign nationals in their own country. Last year WCU held its first commencement exercises in Jamaica. Through faculty and student exchanges, Western's international program involves the major non-Western cultures of Africa, China, India and Islamic nations; and Caribbean countries. Western's international involvement also reaches to Third World countries on three continents through its Center for Improving Mountain Living.

Athletics, and the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, are integral parts of this flourishing university, and the growth and expansion of the athletic program, now with 14 varsity sports, complements the growth and diversity of the educational, research, and service activities.

THE CATAMOUNT YEARBOOK STAFF 1988

JEANNIE PHILLIPS
EDITOR

This year I have enjoyed my editorship to the fullest. It has enabled me to take part in some reward in experiences. My editorship has also enabled me to meet some very special people. On the other hand, my editorship has confronted me with problems and hard times, and without those special people, this 1988 yearbook would not be in front of you now.

I would like to thank those special people who had concern for the CATAMOUNT and who gave their time and ability to see that the students of WESTERN CAROLINA UNIVERSITY could enjoy their 1988 school book. Those special people involved were DICK CAMERON, MARK HASKETT, STEVE WHITE, MYRA MOSTELLA, DR. GLENN STILLION, BAE WADE, ROY SHULER, LIVINGSTON KELLEY, HUNTER PUBLISHING COMPANY, and a very special person, MELISSA WARREN.

I would like to extend a special thank you to Melissa. She was the representative from Hunter Publishing Company. Her job was to get the editor and staff of the yearbook going and to answer any questions when they arose. However, Melissa went beyond the requirements of her job. She met with me at my office on Saturdays to help work on the book. She also drove to my home, where she and I would work all day trying to finish the yearbook. Without Melissa's time and generosity, it would have been very difficult for me to finish this yearbook. THANK YOU MELISSA.

LAUREL ALLEN
BUSINESS MANAGER

Jeannie and I would like to thank those students who contributed their time to the success for the 1988 CATAMOUNT. Those students are:.

COACH BOB WATERS MOTIVATES ATHLETICS

In his capacity as head football coach and athletic director over the years, Coach Bob Waters has been a special example of a champion to his athletes and the athletic program. Athletes at WCU strive for excellence inspired by Coach Waters' high standards and ambitions for the future. The athletic program as a whole has benefitted from this quest for excellence. Not only the individual football player, who has had the direct benefit of Coach Walters' encouragement, but other athletes as well have been shown by example how determination and perseverence can remove the obstacles to success. Each of WCU's athletes has been touched in some way. On teams and individually, they make up an athletic program motivated by spirit and high aspirations. The making of a Champion . . .

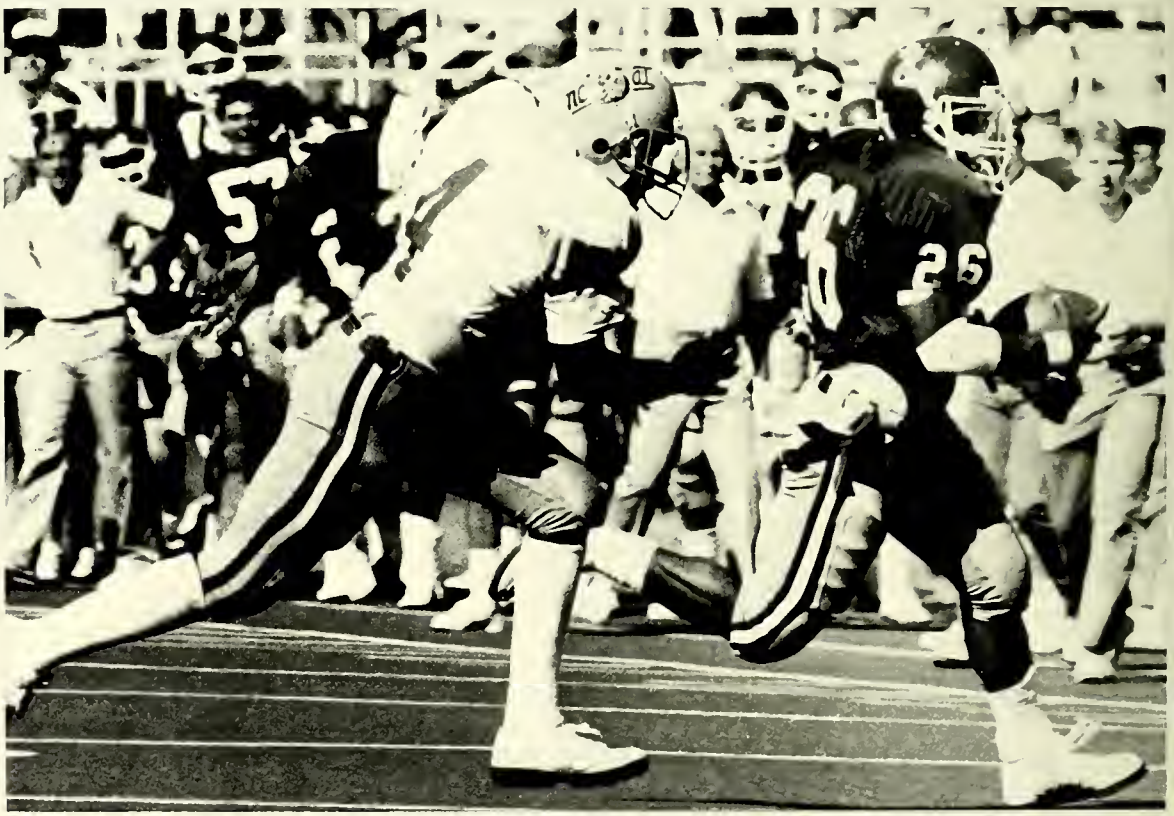

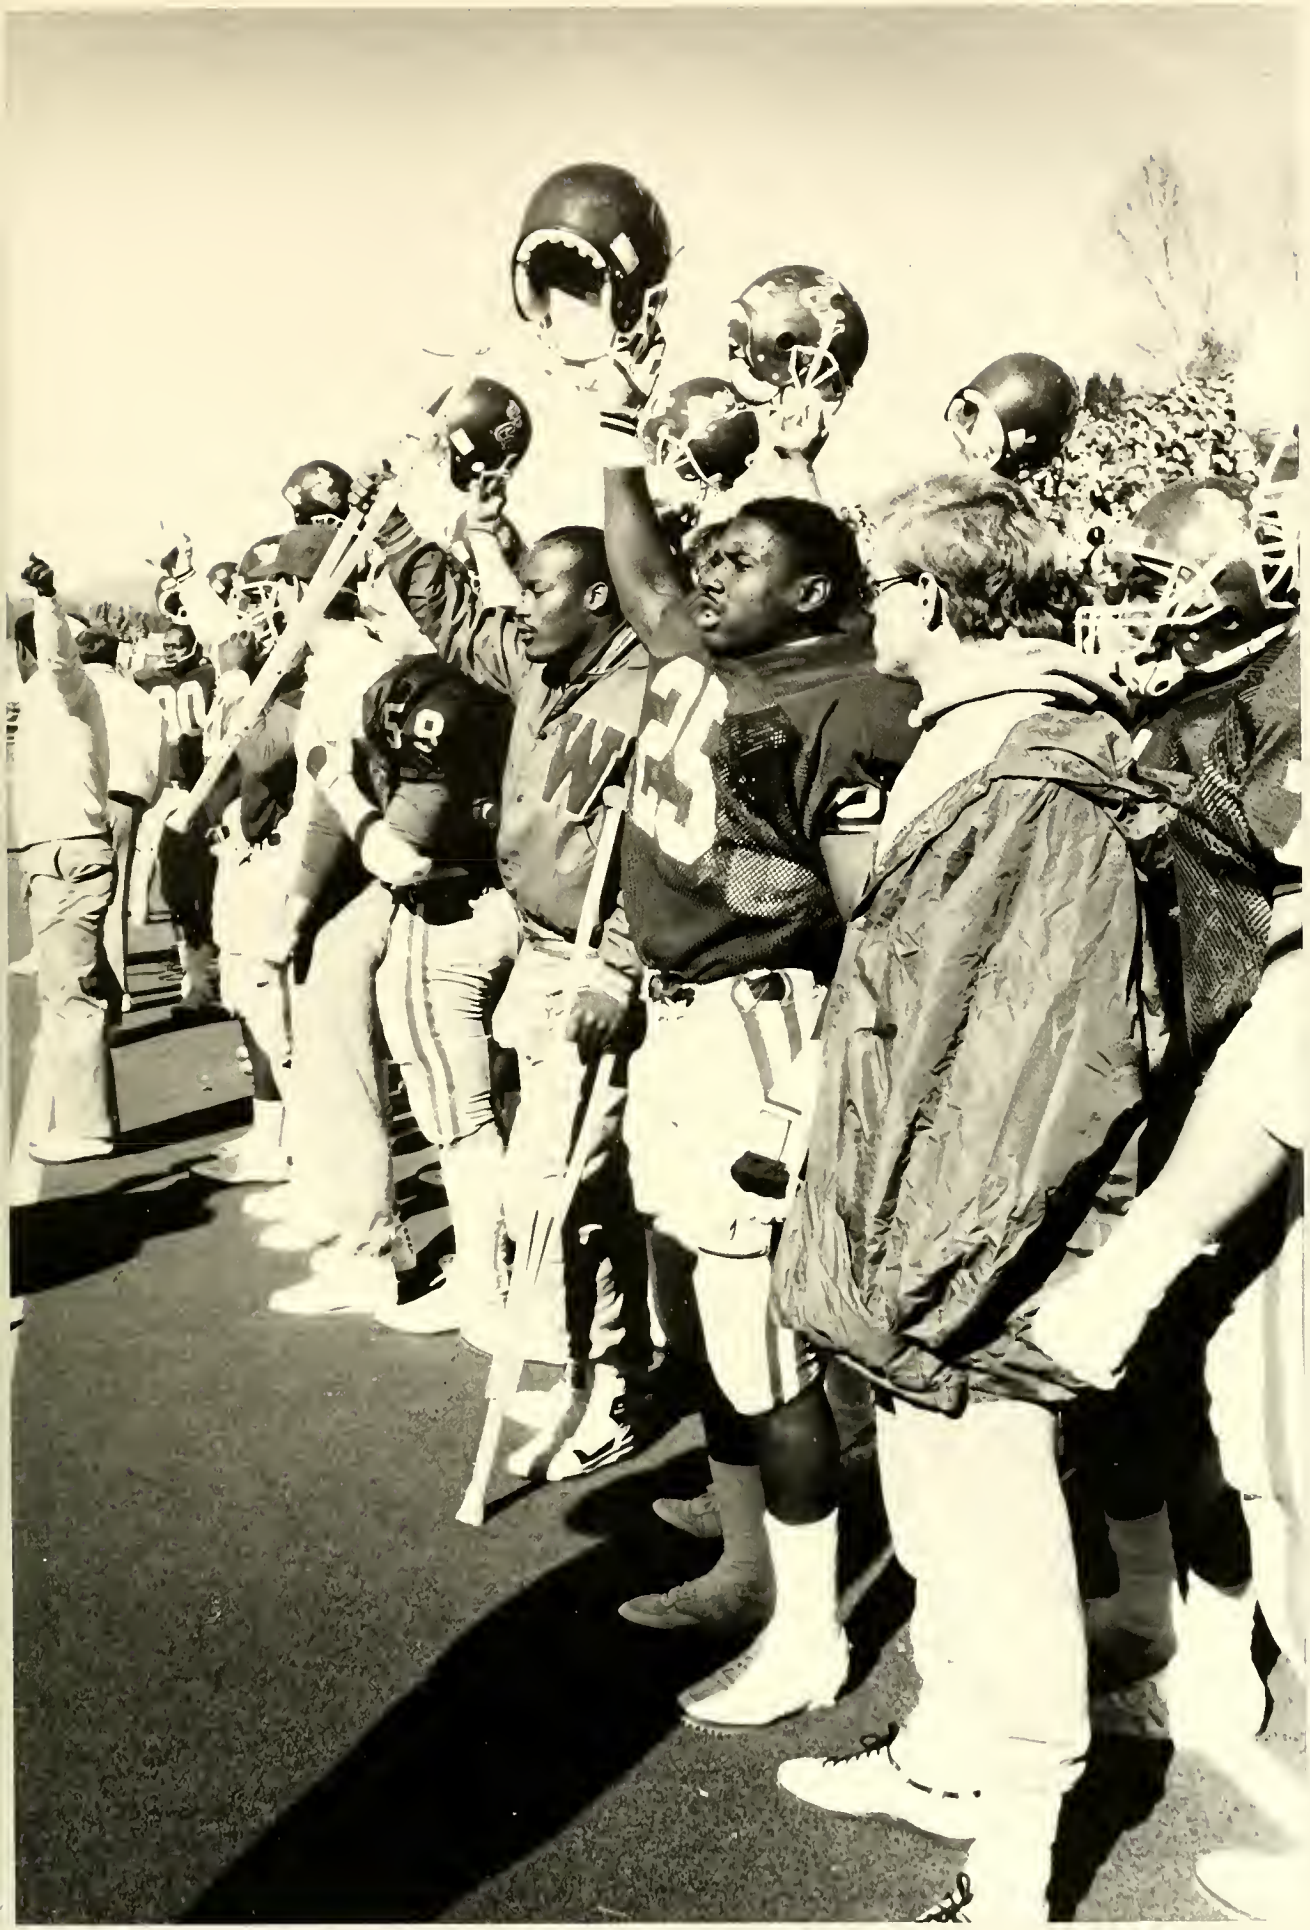

FOOTBALL '87 IS GRIDIRON IRONY

Groans from the gridiron, were sounds heard frequently this fall in Catamount country. The season began with high hopes of finally winning the Southern Conference championship. Eighteen starters and 40 lettermen returned to play from a team that compiled a 6-5 record in 1986 and finished second in the league. Despite the favorable statistics, Coach Waters felt the lack of experience in 3 key offensive positions might create problems in a very competitive year. As the season progressed, frequent injuries on both offense and defense were the team's nemesis. The resulting '87 record of 4 wins and 7 losses was an unforseen irony. Throughout the season, the team's spirit remained unflagging, proving champions don't always have to win.

MEN'S BASKETBALL:

INDIVIDUAL STARS SHINE AS TEAM LOSES

After a promising start to the 1987-88 season, a string of close losses against Southern Conference teams helped set the tone for the worst record in 10 seasons for a WCU men's basketball team.

The Catamounts' chances for success appeared dim from the start as veteran head coach Steve Cottrell resigned only one week before the season opener. Interim head coach Herb Krusen tried to regroup the team — only 10 players at the time — and the Catamounts played well in the first month of the season to hold a 5-4 record in the second week of January. Included in those December losses was a five point defeat (68-63) at the hands of eventual national champion Kansas.

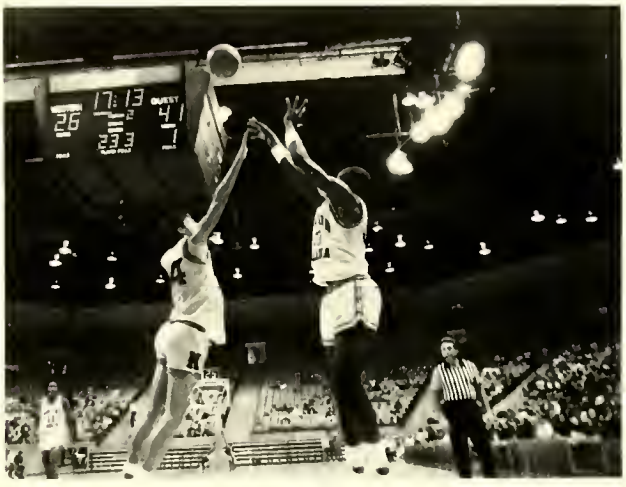

However, last minute losses to Furman, East Tennessee State, Appalachian State and Davidson — all at home — served to destroy any chance of a winning season as the Catamounts could win only three times in their last 18 games to finish 8-19 and failed to make the Southern Conference Tournament field for the first time since joining the league in 1977.

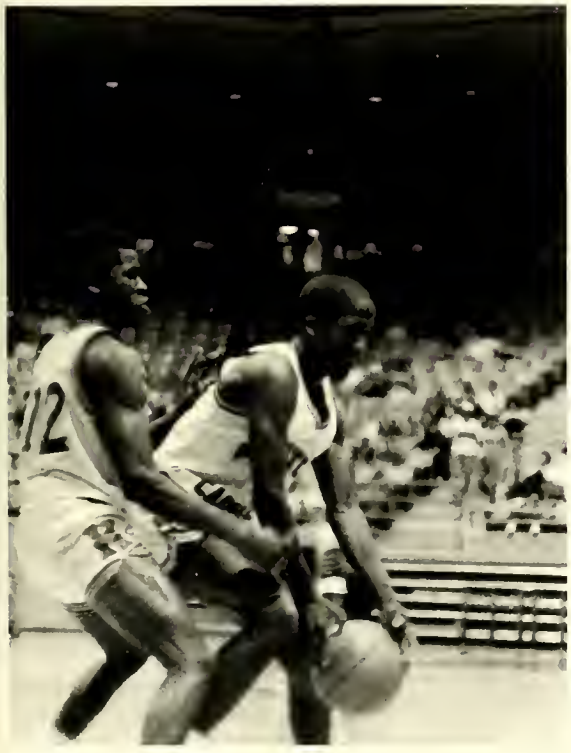

Junior forward, Bennie Goettie, and senior guard, Robert Hutchision, were the individual bright spots for the basketball Cats. Goettie led the team in scoring (19.4 ppg) and finished in the top five in four conference statistical categories (scoring, field goal percentage, rebounding, blocked shots). He was named the league's rookie of the week three times during the season. Hutchinson established a new school record for three-point field goals in a season (60) as he averaged 15.2 points a game.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL 1987-88: TEAM WINS EIGHT CONSECUTIVE GAMES

Western Carolina University's women's basketball team put together eight consecutive wins this season, giving them the most back-to-back wins since the 1982-83 squad notched ten in a row. The Lady Cats finished the season with an 11-16 record, which is also the most wins in a season since that same 1982-83 team tallied 17 victories.

In Southern Conference action WCU had wins over Furman, East Tennessee State and UT-Chattanooga. The win over UT-C was only WCU's second win in 16 contests against the Lady Mocs, and it gave Western a share of first place in the conference standings for the first time ever.

WCU had its first ever All-Southern Conference first team selection when Jeanne Marvel was named to the squad.

The Lady Cats were defeated by Furman, 63-55, in the first round of the Southern Conference Championship Tournament to end the 1987-88 season.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL TEAM SETS UP 8th STRAIGHT

Western Carolina University's women's volleyball team, trying to rebuild after losing three outstanding players to graduation, managed to put together its eighth straight non-losing season by finishing 16-16 overall. WCU's Lady Cats had their fifth straight winning record in Southern Conference action, finishing with a 7-5 mark.

WCU, which consistently plays the toughest non-league schedule in the conference, battled the ACC conference champion N.C. State as well as Clemson, Duke and Georgia Tech. The Lady Cats also took on the likes of South Carolina, East Carolina, Pennsylvania and Tennessee Tech.

Western Carolina won the UNC Charlotte Invitational in late September, defeating East Carolina, Georgia Tech, UNC Charlotte and Furman to claim the championship.

For the first time ever, however, WCU was ousted in the first round of the Southern Conference Championships, marking the first year that the Lady Cats did not place first or second in the tournament. Western lost 3-1 to eventual conference champion UT-Chattanooga to close out the 1987 campaign.

BASEBALL TEAM DOES IT AGAIN

Records fall as WCU wins 4th straight Southern Conference Championship

The 1988 baseball season was another record shattering experience for Western Carolina University.

The '88 Catamounts ran the school's Southern Conference Baseball Championship string to four in a row as they went through the conference championship tournament unbeaten . . . again.

The four straight conference baseball championships tied the Southern Conference record for the most consecutive championships. WCU tied West Virginia which won four straight titles, 1961-64.

Coach Jack Leggett's team won its third straight Southern Conference south division championship — fourth in the last five seasons — by posting a 14-3 division record bettering The Citadel, Davidson and Furman for the title. The regular season schedule included four teams that were ranked in the nation's top 25 going into the last week of the season — Florida, Auburn, N.C. State and Clemson. Exactly half of the Cats 22 regular season losses came at the hand of those four teams.

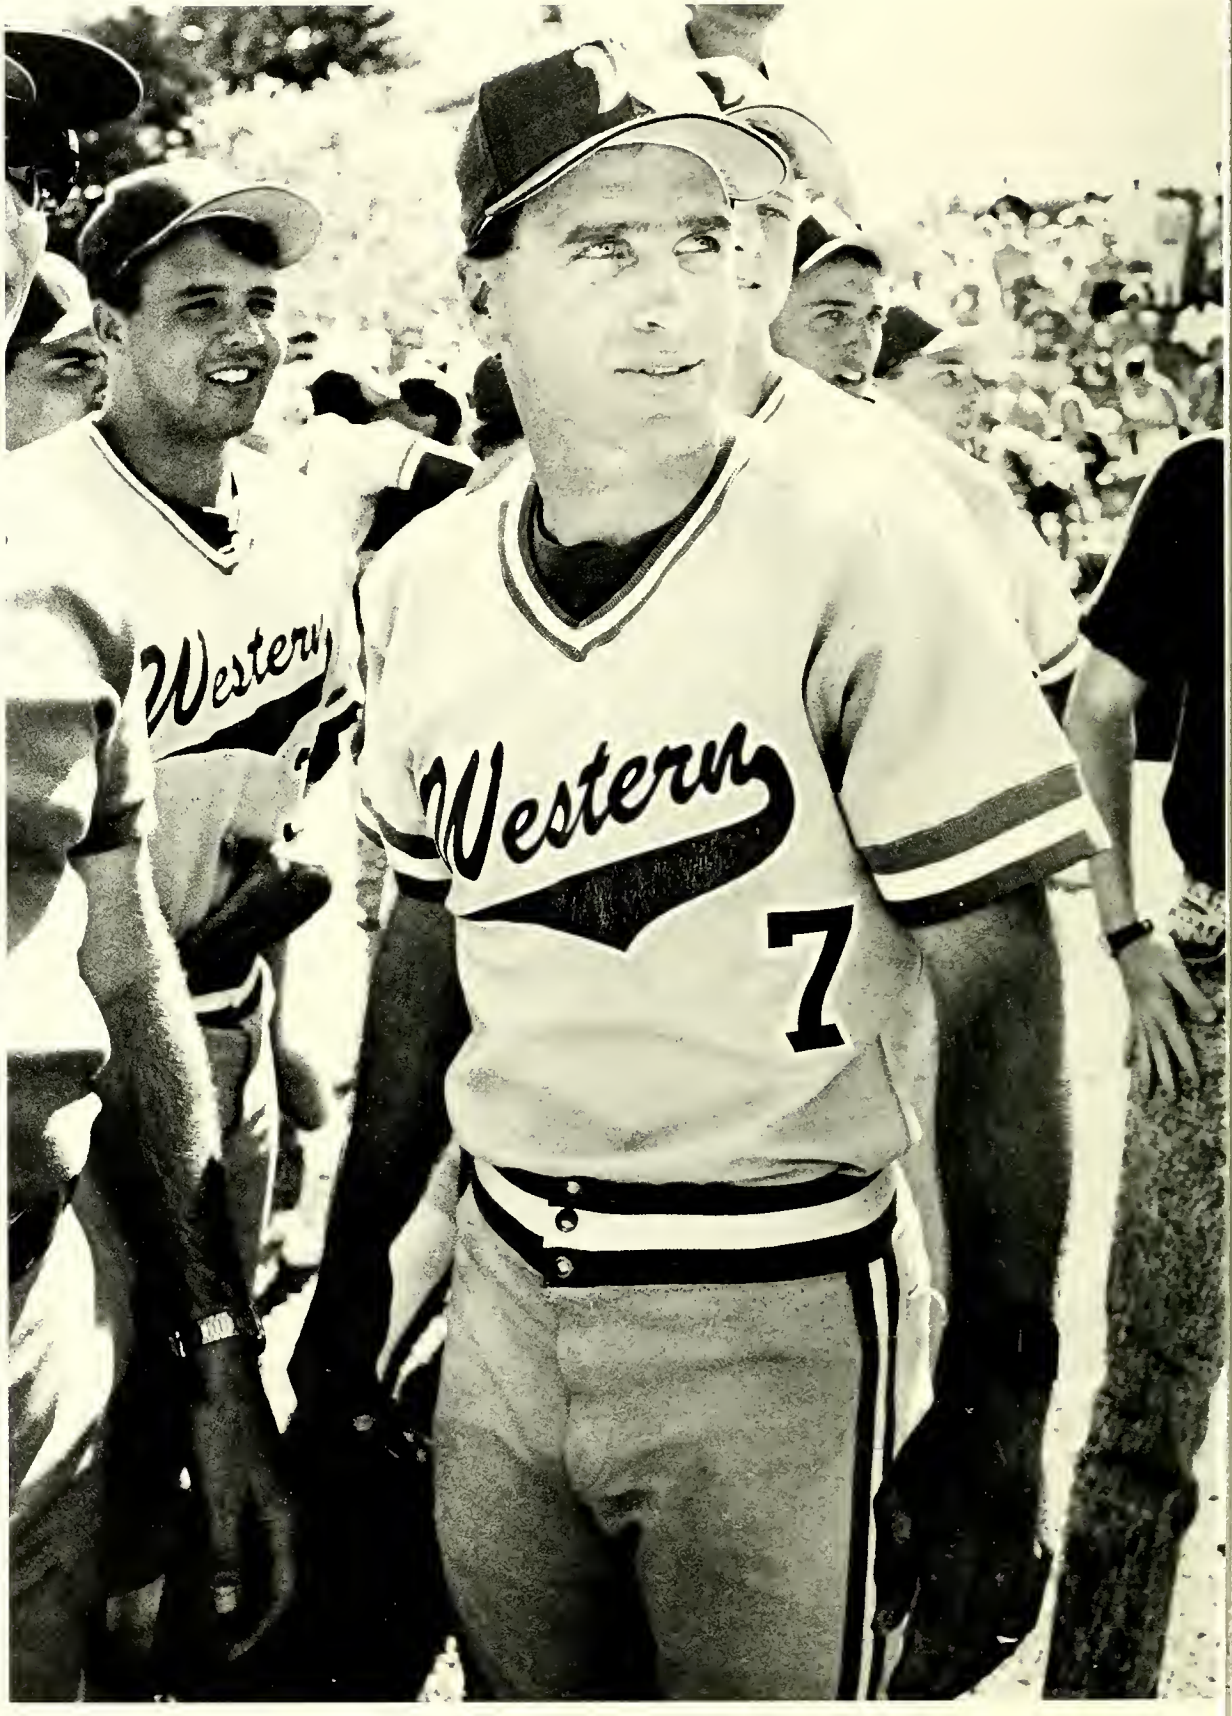

WCU rolled through the conference tournament with an awesome display of batting power as they collected 59 hits including 14 home runs. The Catamounts claimed the title by defeating Appalachian State in the first round, 18-8; The Citadel in the semi-finals, 6-4: and The Citadel again in the championship game, 22-6.

Among the records shattered this season were team marks for home runs (112) and wins (38). Individually, first baseman Clint Fairey established a new mark for home runs in a season (24) and outfielder Keith LeClair set a new base hits record (98).

The Catamounts will carry a 38-22 record into their fourth consecutive NCAA regional tournament appearance, including 11 wins in a row.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

"Simeon and the Windsprints" are playing today, a student is overheard saying. Is this the latest rock group? No, it's time again for Intramural Tag Football.

From the first week of classes to the week before final exams in May, students at Western participate in Intramural Sports. From billiards to softball to tennis, teams with names like "Krush City" and "Turkey Squats" compete weekly. Good exercise, an outlet for stress, and just plain fun are reasons students participate.

The following are groups and individuals who made it to the top of their sport in 1987-1988.

CHAMPIONS

College is a time for fun — just clowning around. It's a time for learning, too. We take care of ourselves, prepare for a career, experience good times and bad.

We get to know ourselves better. Somewhere along the way we discover . . . the making of a champion.
